Supplemental Educational Services and Public School Choice 2011-2012

Information and Statistics

Schools receiving Title I funds under the No Child Left Behind law, that do not make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) for two years in a row in the same category, must offer Public School Choice (PSC) then subsequently Supplemental Educational Services (SES). In Danville Public Schools there are 8 elementary schools receiving Title I funds.

The chart below shows:

1. the number of students who are eligible to participate in PSC and SES and;
2. the actual number of students who participated in the PCS and SES programs
